Want to be Spanked

The Business association wants the city council to hire a policeman to arrest them so they won't park their own cars in front of their own places of business all day and crowd out their own customers.

"This is very strange," said the Mayor when the request was presented.

Why a town this size should have a parking problem at all is beyond understanding. Most Carmel people have legs sturdy enough to carry them the three blocks necessary to reach any point of shopping or business interest from where they can conveniently park their cars, for even at the "peak" of traffic "congestion" (Continued on page 4)

Fire Truck Bond Election Aug. 18 Officers Chosen

On Tuesday, August 18 there will be a special election to vote bonds to raise $10,000 for a new fire truck for Carmel. The date was set Thursday when the council met at noon to sit as a board of equalization.

If voted, the bonds are to be retired at $1000 a year at not more than 3½ percent interest and will be paid off entirely in 1953.

The special election is to be held at the Firehouse from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. with the following election officers in charge.

Harry L. Clement, inspector; Alice W. Askew, judge; Clair B. Leidig, and Elizabeth H. Sullivan, clerks.

Lydia Weld, Draftsman for Warships, Recalls Tempest of the Connecticut

Dogcatcher Trips Over His Heart; Pound Stock Down

Carmel's new dog catcher, Foy E. Glover, is so tender hearted, so hates to see a dog killed, that every time he is called to pick up a stray, he takes it home and tries to find someone to adopt it.

And Glover has found homes for all but one of the dogs picked up this week—a smooth Fox terrier with brown and black ears. She is very gentle and friendly with children and, if Glover can extract her from the endearments of his own children, Carol Ann, 7, and Patty Lou, 2, he will give her to the first person who calls.

Glover began answering calls last Friday and he has been running a hotel for dogs ever since.

"I'm supposed to take the dogs over the hill to the pound, but Carmel people wouldn't go over there to see them," Glover explains. "And after five days, the dogs would be killed."

Usually someone on the spot offers to pay the license for the dog when Glover arrives to pick it up. Most of his calls so far have been for cockers.

His first call came last Friday from Guadalupe beyond Camino del Monte for a mixed Golden cocker-terrier which had been abandoned with her female puppy. The boys at the Union gas station offered to take them if Glover would care for the muntil July 20.

The Der Ling shop next phoned to report a big black and white mongrel, Countess Kinnoull and Vincente de Moor are now giving him a home.

At midnight Saturday Glover was called to the Greyhound bus depot by two soldiers and two girls who had been joined by a black cocker female. Glover took her home, and Tuesday he received a special delivery letter from San Francisco saying that if he would only keep the dog until this week— (Continued on page 4)

BIG BACH EDITION

Next Friday the Pine Cone-Cymbal publishes the traditional Bach Festival Edition that is wrapped up and sent back home as a souvenir by hundreds of Bach Festival visitors, that is mailed by Carmel people to relatives and friends throughout the country, that circulates and is read over the entire Peninsula.

From its magazine art cover to the last item on the last page, it will be full of Bach Festival information, pictures of the soloists, the chorus, the management, word-sketches of the outstanding participants, the program in full, in addition to the weekly Pine Cone-Cymbal lineup of news and features.

Council Bares Teeth at Time-Limit Parking

A letter from Business Association President Harold Nielsen, requesting legislation for time-limit parking, bolstered by the personal appeals of Elizabeth McClung White, Victor Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. Wick Parsons was received by the city council with set jaw, and a hard eye.

The council had three reasons for not warming to the suggestion. They are:

1. It doesn't want to spend money.
2. It doesn't want to spend money.
3. It doesn't want to spend money.

Also: the Mayor: "This (time limit parking) is a situation that has been unsuccessful formerly." McCreery: "Last time the local merchants made it a game. Went out and moved their cars just enough to cover the chalk mark on their tires." Rowntree: "The very people the law was passed to protect came in and squawked loudest when they got citations." McIndoe: (The 'no' man) "I'm in favor of giving it a trial if they go after the merchants themselves, and if we can afford it." Godwin: (Delivering the final poke on the button) "If the business association wants time-limit parking, why is there just a handful of people here to represent it? Why isn't there a real representation" (Continued on page 9)

NOTICE TO HORSES Free Drinks on Burke

At the Wednesday night meeting of the Carmel City Council the members voted to grant the petition of Billy Burke to erect a horse-trough and two hitching posts in front of his place of business on Dolores street.

The motion was made by Mayor Evans, seconded by Commissioner of Health and Safety, Fred Godwin. The one dissenting vote was a loud "No" from Councilman Bernard Rowntree

In ten days the Eighth Annual Bach Festival opens with its first concert in Sunset Auditorium Monday evening, July 20.

The requests for reservations, pouring into the Denny-Watrous headquarters, indicate that this year's attendance will be as good as last in spite of war and rubber rationing.

They "love to come to the Peninsula for a quiet week to enjoy the most beautiful music in the world," is the gist of many of the letters from festival devotees asking that their favorite seats be reserved for them, and their letters come from all over the west: Portland, Seattle, Tucson, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Rio Del Mar, Laguna Beach, dozens from the interior valleys and the Bay regions, and one from Louisville, Ky.

Their response is a testimonial to their faith that the Bach Festival management has not let the standard of the outstanding musical event of the west be lowered because of the difficulties arising from war times and conditions. Their faith is justified.

With the line up of artists, orchestra, out of town chorus and soloists, the festival will go a step higher this year in quality, as it did last year over the preceding year. Each year it has improved, and this year will be no exception.

The shortage of men musicians, for a while a real difficulty, was overcome through the efforts of the management scouring the state for talent and getting it because musicians, as well as their audience, "love to come to the Peninsula" to share in producing the most beautiful music in the world.

PETITION DENIED

Councilman P. A. McCreery reporting Wednesday night on Mrs. Esther Jones' request to have several trees removed from in front of her property recommended that the petition be denied. The council voted to accept his recommendation.

Mother of Men of Harlan Dies, Ending Saga of Coast Pioneers

By LILLIAN BOS ROSS
Big Sur, California

Mrs. Wilbur Judson Harlan died at her home in the Big Sur on July 4th. This pioneer woman was as much the spirit of America as Independence Day itself. Her father, Gabriel Dani, drove the covered wagon which hauled the first organ to the first Tabernacle built in a desert that flowered into Salt Lake.

The wagon halted in Utah and Ada Amanda Dani was born there in 1867. Then the wagon rolled on, following the sun deeper and ever deep into the heart of the untamed West. It came to a halt within sight of the Mission San Juan Bautista. It rested there for a while and the family increased.

But there was talk of a country down the Monterey coast with mountains like wild colts rearing straight up from a restless sea; a country waiting for strong men to pit their strength against. Mrs. Harlan was a nine year old girl

Ninety-five Women Swamp Sugar Board

Not only taking the applications but also holding the babies who came with the applicants, sugar rationers received requests from 95 Carmel women for canning sugar Wednesday at Civilian Defense headquarters.

All but two applications were granted by the rationers, Mrs. Ida Newberry and Mrs. Cedric Rowntree, supervisors, and their volunteer assistants, Mesdames Mary Whitaker, Leda Greiner, Florence Michals, Doris Haskell, Lillian Becker, Josephine Durfee, Dorothea Hooper, Alma Elder and Miss Ruth Radcliff.

Only accident of the day occurred when Mrs. Maud Fellows left her rationing book behind.

Co-operation Gets Results in Rent Problem Here

"Rents have been frozen in the bay region and as far south as San Jose. They have been frozen from Santa Barbara to San Luis Obispo. We in this county are a little island that has escaped the rent freeze. The reason is the willingness on the part of house owners and real estate people to co-operate with the O.P.M. and keep rents voluntarily at a reasonable figure."

THE DOGS DO BARK

On the Fourth of July, PAL, the Village Patriarch, left his cozy chair and waddled to town to take a look at this year's crop of tourists. After he had watched them stream by for an hour or so, he confided to his friend and companion, King Madeiras, that he thought the tourists weren't quite up to par.

"They're not like they used to be in the old days when the tourists always dressed up in arty and outlandish attire thinking they looked like the 'artists and writers' they saw on Ocean Avenue, who were really just other tourists dressed up in their idea of the kind of costumes 'artists and writers' wore. Now the tourists have lost their color and individuality and all look alike—all the men are in uniform and all the women wear slacks. Why there were only three girls in shorts, and not a single man in a beret, and not a sign of a beard. Tsk, tsk, tsk, times certainly have changed." And PAL sadly waddled back home to his cozy chair and his beautiful memories.

The dogs were the ones who really enjoyed this Fourth of July! It was a grand and glorious Fourth for them—there wasn't a single firecracker.

It was the first time that ROVER didn't spend the day under the bed shivering with terror, and howling pitifully every time a firecracker exploded and nearly shattered his sensitive ear drums.

The Fourth of July always had been the day the dogs hated most because the excitement and awful noise, magnified many times by their sensitive ears, made it a day of sheer horror for them. What a relief to them the peace and quiet was this time!

Handsome ALI BABA de Kin-noull cut quite a dashing figure at the Dog Show in his stunning black coat. He wore a red, white, and blue rosette tied on his pomp-adour so that everyone would know that he was a Free-French Poodle.

YIPPEE Martin is home from the hospital and seems to be well on the road to recovery.

The first thing he did when he came home was to call on his best girl, CHIQUITA Oliveira, who lives across the street. YIPPEE had been so worried about CHIQUITA. He was afraid that some of those dashing Army fellows would try to beat his time while he was in the hospital. He was overjoyed to find that his beloved CHIQUITA had been true to him, so all's right with YIPPEE'S world once more.

Friends of PATSY Rountree will be sorry to learn of the tragic fate that befell the little Cocker on the camping expedition to Bass Lake with her master and mistress, Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Round-

They were tracing a mountain stream, fishing. Below them was a hundred and twenty-foot waterfall. PATSY slipped into the current and was swirled away and over the falls before anyone could catch her—and never was seen again.

A note from HAMISH Collins tells us that we got a little mixed-up about his mistress's "non de plume." HAMISH straightens it out for us and gives us some interesting news about his mistress's new books. He writes:

"Mary writes under the name of 'Mary Collins', not 'Mary Garden', and inasmuch as I am the hero of her second book, I don't feel that I ought to let this minor mistake slip by. The name of Mary's book is 'Dead Center', and she has, very unfairly I feel, allowed a lot of people to get the idea that a man named Fitzgerald is the hero. If you will read the book, you will see that this is not true. Who catches the murderer? I DO, I, HAMISH. And if that doesn't make me the hero of a mystery novel, what will? In the next-to-last chapter, I bite the criminal in the leg, just the same way BONNIE bit a policeman who came into our backyard uninvited, and it is my biting in the book which makes it impossible for the criminal to escape."

BONNIE was almost beside herself with jealousy when I got to be the hero of a book, so Mary had to put her in her third one, 'Only The Good'. BONNIE is still a little bit miffed, because she definitely is not the heroine. She only gets hit over the head a couple of times and doesn't do any actual biting."

Thank you for your note, HAMISH. I'll be haunting the book shop now until "Dead Center" and "Only The Good", by Mary COLLINS, appear.

Carmel Rodeo Parade Lead By Sheriff Bordges

Carmel's Fourth of July celebration consisted in an equestrian parade lead by Sheriff Alex Bordges and his mounted posse which wound up at the Mission ranch for a rodeo and bronco busting contest.

Participating in the parade, in addition to the sheriff and his posse, were riders from most of the stables on the Peninsula, some contestants from out of town and several wagon loads of gaily dressed cowboys and cowgirls in rigs furnished by Hodges stables.

In the rodeo that followed the winners were out-of-towners. The only local entrant to carry off a prize for any event was Mrs. Tex Raibourn who won the award for best dressed cowgirl.

Sheriff Bordges, Judge Ray Baugh, Lieut. Col. Walter Web, Fort Ord, Captain Frank Oswald and Sgt. Andy Martin of the highway patrol were among those who presented awards to the winners of the various rodeo events.

Alan Lane Home From The Seas For The Fourth

A Carmel boy now in the Navy, who saw action at Pearl Harbor, the Coral Sea and Midway, Alan Lane came home last week-end for a Fourth of July visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane.

Alan, as captain of a gun crew of a destroyer, handled an anti-aircraft gun in the fighting at Pearl Harbor. He is a Gunner's Mate, second class.

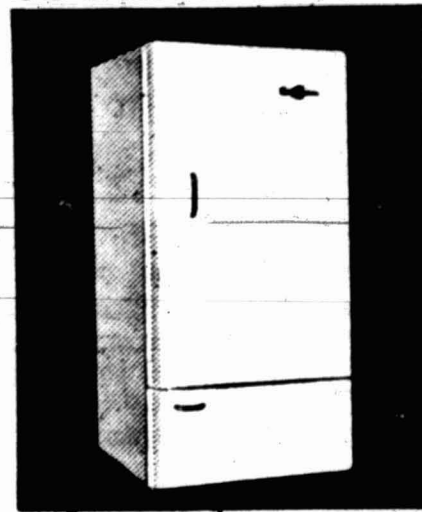

A member of the Carmel Progressive Association, the boys' club which Fred Bechdolt helped to found, Alan Lane like nearly all his companions in the organization volunteered for the armed forces.

He and his parents have been members of the Carmel community for the past 14 years.

Carmel Amused, Pleased To Have Girl Taxi Driver

Last week Myrtle Montgomery asked Joe Oliveiro for a job and got it. Carmel now has the first woman taxi driver on the Peninsula.

A former school teacher, chauffeur for an RKO Studio executive, and presently wife of Master Sergeant Thomas L. Montgomery, Myrtle is small, vivacious, with dark curly hair and blue eyes, has a light southern accent, and looks smart as a band master in her visored cap, gray flannel slacks and tomato red leather jacket.

Her first fare was Mavis Clark of Seventh and Camino whom she took over to the Monterey station on the Fourth to pick up a houseguest.

The soldiers whom Myrtle Montgomery has driven about have evinced an advisory and paternal interest in her work. As for "tough customers," she has had none.

"Nothing," she says, "ever happens to me."

Nothing that is, except the piling up of a few bicycle records. She has cycled 5,000 miles and made the 130 miles from Los Angeles to San Diego in 13 hours.

She has worked in the office of the State motor vehicle department, in Los Angeles county assessor's office, taught public school in the Middlewest, run her own private school for retarded children in San Bernardino, and chauffeured for Joseph Hiendel, executive director of music for RKO Studios.

Myrtle learned to drive on a Model T Ford. She loves driving and being out of doors.

Her chauffeuring began when, as guardian of a Camp Fire group in Los Angeles, she was obliged to be forever driving the children about.

Myrtle now possesses a private chauffeur's license and has been fingerprinted by the Carmel Police Department, and since she fulfills all the legal requirements of a male taxi driver, she is privileged to work as such in the day time, but not at night. According to state regulations, a woman cannot operate a taxi after dark.

Soldiers' Exhibit At Golden Bough

Jumping to the fore of the present trend in art exhibits, Carmel will hold its own show of soldiers' art and, keeping right up to the minute, stage it out of doors.

Paintings, ceramics, drawings, handicrafts, photography will be included in the exhibit which opens in the court of the Golden Bough, and also in the upstairs gallery, on Sunday, July 19.

Tilly Polak, Carol Steinbeck, Margaret Valiant, Pat Cunningham, and Barbara Norberg are assembling the display.

All work must be in by July 15, and is being received by the Carmel Art Gallery, the Sketch Box, the Fort Ord Special Service Office and the Presidio Special Service Office.

There will not be a jury and painting and pieces need not be mounted. Only requirement is that the work be done by a soldier.

Sponsors of the show are:

Major General and Mrs. J. W. Anderson; Col. and Mrs. Roger S. Fitch; Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell;

Col. and Mrs. Wesley J. Gritton; Col. and Mrs. S. W. Clark; Col. and Mrs. Woods King; Helen Gahagan; Noel Sullivan; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Fish; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Winslow.

CARMEL MYERS—who will play lead in "Mr. and Mrs. North" at the Del Monte Summer Theatre starting Tuesday, July 14.

Carmel Myers In Mystery Play At Summer Theatre

Tuesday, July 14, will be opening night for "Mr. and Mrs. North," Del Monte Theatre's second production this season.

Carmel Myers, star of many a Metro Goldwin-Meyer production, and well known to all theatre goers, will play the lead in "Mr. and Mrs. North." Walter Brooke will play opposite Miss Myers.

Included in the large cast will be Phil Robinson who is here from New York to play the important role of police officer, Robert Harris, Barry Macollum, Louise Arthur, Phyllis Benbow and Robert Migran—all members of the Del Monte company. Newcomers here from Hollywood are Jack Shay, Max Cole and Fred Clark.

"Mr. and Mrs. North," by Owen Davis is an amusing mystery play. The play is taken from the short stories as they appear in the New Yorker magazine. It has already been made into a movie, with Gracie Allen and George Burns in the lead.

A free bus leaves Pine Inn corner of Lincoln and Ocean each evening at 8 p. m. to go over to the theatre. This same bus returns to Carmel immediately after the performance.

"Mr. and Mrs. North" will be directed by Robert Harris.

This week end, Friday, Saturday and Sunday peninsula theatre goers will have a last chance to see the current comedy hit at the Del Monte Theatre, "Out of the Frying Pan."

Phyllis Jones Second at Grove Swimming Meet

Phyllis Jones, Carmel High girl's swimming champion, is wearing a sterling silver victory medal this week, awarded her when she came in second in the 30 meter free style race at Pacific Grove plunge July 4.

Her time was 20.9, one tenth of a second more than that of the winner, Estella Falotico of Pacific Grove.

Third in the girls' 30 meter was Cleo Camp of Big Sur.

Jimmy McPike and Malcolm Colban, Pacific Grove, traded honors in the boys' events, McPike winning first in the 30 meter, Colban taking second; Colban first in the 60 meter and McPike second.

While Dr. James E. Crowther takes a month's vacation, Dr. Leslie Learned will officiate at the Church of the Wayfarer.

tion" there is never a time when parking can't be found with ease within three blocks of the business district.

And if the merchants are afraid people won't patronize their places of business unless they can park their cars directly in front of the store in which they want to shop, let the merchants leave their own cars in the three-blocks-away wilderness and stagger the additional distance to work.

If their neighboring merchants do not do likewise, they can come out, glare at the offender and call him that word that damns in any American community—un-cooperative!

But to hire an extra cop to nurse-patrol cars in and out of parking slots in this village is silly.

Beat the Drum

There's a lively old hymn-tune that keeps lilting through my mind. "Give me that old time religion!" only I'm hearing it as, "Give us an old time election!" Maybe not with torchlight parades, what with the dim out regulations, but with speeches and bands, slogans and noise, such as sent our grandfathers kiting off to the polls in a lather of enthusiasm to elect that "fine, upstanding citizen," their candidate.

Something drastic is needed to catch the public interest and direct it to the forthcoming elections. The candidates who have called at The Pine Cone-Cymbal have been unanimous in their plaint that people "just aren't paying any attention to the campaign this year. They are reading, talking, thinking nothing but war."

No wonder. War has the three most powerful attention-getting and holding elements known to man: noise, conflict and menace.

In competition to this, the candidates, the political clubs and the better government organizations are sending out dodgers saying it is our duty to vote intelligently, our responsibility to choose good candidates, when any two-bit psychologists know that "duty" and "responsibility" are run-away words—people can't run away from them fast enough.

Naturally, sincere political leaders and organizations would rather appeal to the reason than the emotions of the voter, but failing that, and they are certainly failing if those who get around are judges, they might at least try the methods of our grandfathers, who probably couldn't have talked psychology but certainly knew how to practice it.

If the candidates and their supporters want the attention of the voters, I suggest a good noisy brass band (I'd like to hear one myself going up Ocean Avenue). They can keep the attention alive with conflict (wind up the parade at Sunset Auditorium with a debate between the two opposing candidates), and tie the whole campaign up in a wave of enthusiasm with slogans and battle cries.

The Pine Cone-Cymbal has already adopted its slogan: "Give us an old-time election."

Labor—art, and the pay-off in bonds.

Certain members of the War Labor Board are urging the paying off of the United Steel Workers' demand of a dollar a day raise in war bonds, citing as an example the shipbuilding stabilization-agreement in which an eight per cent an hour raise was granted on the stipulation the increase should be paid off in bonds. The strongest argument offered in favor of the pay-off-in-bonds policy was the possibility that it would prevent an increase in purchasing power, and a corresponding increase in the cost of living.

As an idea it has its points; but it would be still more pointed if the steel companies also were required to put aside a corresponding percentage of their in-

Glen Sorey Leaves With 26 Others for Army on July 20

On July 20, Glenn Sorey of El Fumador, as acting corporal, will shepherd 26 Peninsula men to San Francisco to report for duty in the army.

Sorey, who volunteered three months ago for officers' training corps, went up to San Francisco Monday with fifty other Peninsula men for induction into the army. He and the 26 that were accepted out of the fifty with the exception of a few who did not want furlough, are home now on leave until the 20th.

He is putting in these ten days interim in getting his business in order so it can be left to the management of Lida Pierce, and Margaret Teske, under the guidance of Mrs. Sorey.

Sorey, after three months at basic training station will be eligible to appear before officers' board to be passed on for officers' training school.

come for the purchase of war bonds. This would make a sizable contribution to the victory chest of the nation, and the steel workers would not feel that they were being forced to contribute more than their share both to the financing of the war and to the stabilizing of the cost of living.

On the other hand, Paul Mays, one of Carmel's top-flight artists, reports a highly satisfactory "batter-in-bonds" arrangement.

An artist friend of Mr. Mays, writing from Texas, said that his former flourishing portrait painting business among the Texas oil magnates had languished painfully in the first months following the declaration of war. The patriotic Texans told him that now there was a war in progress, money formerly spent on "non-essentials" should be used for buying bonds. By "non-essentials" the petroleum elite meant paintings, and Mr. Mays' friend was faced with the critical problem of remaining solvent.

He did some practical thinking, or perhaps he heard about the shipbuilding stabilization agreement that is so impressing the War Labor Board at the present moment; at any rate, the patriotic Texans who want pictures and want equally to spend their picture-money for war bonds have had their inner conflict neatly resolved for them. The practical artist is urging them to buy the bonds and exchange them for pictures, and he reports, the response has been most gratifying.

Sanitary Board Reduces Rate to 10 Cents Per $100

The Sanitary Board, meeting as a board of equalization Monday set the tax rate for 1942-43 at 10 cents per $100, a reduction of 2 cents over last year's 12 cents.

The assessed valuation of the Carmel Sanitary district is $6,868,080 an increase of $429,135 over last year's figure. The annexation of additional territory into the district, Carmel Woods among them, accounts for the increased source of revenue. Economical management made possible the reduction of the rate, however.

The 10 cent rate is relatively low since in former years it has been as high as 15 cents and can be fixed as high as 40 cents according to law.

end, Ruth Selby, one of the girls would come down and get her. Saturday also Glover took Mrs. Martina Tait's Skye terrier, which had been run over, to the Del Monte Dog and Cat hospital, in Monterey. "Gee, I was busy Sunday," says Glover.

Among the dogs picked up was the Fox terrier, still without a home, which was reported from Del Monte Lodge.

Someone put a black cocker male into the back of a station wagon while its owner, Elspeth Frellson, was attending the Mission Ranch rodeo. If uncalled for, this dog will be adopted by Mrs. Frellson.

Because she is leaving Carmel, Mrs. E. R. Hill asked Glover to find a home for her nine months old Wire Haired. Glover found Harry Shaw of La Playa who has taken him.

Licenses are only $2 a year for males, $4 for females, and Glover has discovered that Carmel is most generous in helping to keep the dogs alive.

During the summer months masses at the Mission will be celebrated Sunday at seven, nine and eleven.

Joy Reminds Voters Registration Closes Thursday, July 16

Only six days remain in which citizens can register for the primary election on August 25. Registration for the primary election closes on Thursday, July 16.

"Citizens who have moved since they last registered must re-register now," County Clerk Carol Joy said when he called at the Pine Cone-Cymbal this week. But if they have not moved and voted in the November 1940 election, they are qualified to vote regardless of the shuffling of precincts here in Carmel. Precinct changes were automatically indicated on registration cards at the county office.

Every citizen over twenty-one who can read or write, and who has lived in California for one year, in his county for ninety days, and in his precinct for 40 days before election is entitled to vote if properly registered.

Registration places: Staniford's Drug Information Bureau; Greyhound taxi.

Mrs. Hasty Doesn't Like Hap's Pet

Out of Whit Wellman's garbage can Wednesday night, Hap Hasty extracted one skunk.

Hasty wanted to have him deodorized and keep him for a pet.

While Hasty avoided other attack, he was bitten in the process of putting the skunk in a box and into the back of his car.

At press time the skunk, escaping from his box, had crawled into the inner workings of the car and was inextricably wound in between the tin ceiling of the hood's double roof.

And also at press time Mrs. Hasty was threatening to move.

Hasty however, still hopes to have a pet skunk in spite of the fact that, while he says he could easily get him out of the car, he admits he couldn't and still have a skunk left.

her to go to work and show them, so she became the first woman to work as a draftsman on ships, being employed by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company. Now Miss Weld is working in the drafting room of the Moore Dry Dock company, San Francisco.

Before the United States entered the last war, German raiders of the North German Lloyd line used to put in at Newport News and, Miss Weld said last week-end while she was in Carmel, their camouflage was very interesting. Sometimes they had a false funnel which they could raise to make themselves look like a four stacked vessel instead of the three stacked ship that was being hunted. Others had fake side pieces which could be dropped to make them look like freighters instead of raiders.

She recalls the occasion on which the Navy department stepped on the toes of the state of Connecticut. In the drafting room, warships go only by numbers. The Navy department assigns the names. When Coast Defense Monitors 8 and 9 were ready for their names, Secretary of Navy Long, finding that the states of Florida and Connecticut had no ships named after them, assigned "Connecticut" and "Florida" to the two monitors.

Florida did not object, but immediately from all parts of the world, Connecticut people flooded the Navy department with protests that a little coast defense monitor should be all Connecticut had when the other states had battleships named after them. At first Secretary Long was inclined to say Congress had decided the matter and nothing could be done about it, but when Senator Pratt of Connecticut came to him and said the naming of the ship was causing such feeling that it was going to affect his re-election, the Secretary agreed to recommend a change if the Senator could find another state willing to accept the coastal monitor. Nevada came forward gracefully and saved the situation, and eventually Connecticut got a battleship and so did Florida.

Also League of Voters President

Miss Weld has lived in Carmel for seven years and has been one of the most active members of the League of Women Voters. She has fulfilled a term as president, and during the past year she has served as elections chairman. She is a Republican who votes Democratic when she believes the Democrats have the best man. She is greatly interested in the forthcoming congressional elections and is strongly in favor of a non-partisan political meeting on the Peninsula at which all candidates will speak.

Miss Weld came to California to rest after the last war, and embarked most successfully upon alfalfa, pear and sheep raising in Antelope Valley. Soon she was director of the Los Angeles Farm Bureau and a trustee of the Antelope Valley high school district, which is largest in the United States.

$5 Car Tax Stamp Still Available at Carmel Post Office

Carmel postoffice is still selling Federal $5 use tax stamps to motorists who failed to get theirs within the stipulated time. Postmaster Ernest Bixler said yesterday. The time has been extended for first and second class post office sales until July 31, after which date the stamps can be bought only at the internal revenue offices.

Those who have not yet got the stamps are in violation of the law and liable to $25 fine or 30 days imprisonment, or both, for failure to pay the tax, and a $25 fine if the stamp has been bought but is not displayed on the car.

In announcing the continued sale of the stamps, Bixler said also that Carmel postoffice is celebrating its first anniversary as a first class postoffice this month. It received that rating July 1 last year.

Yankees Down Rebels In Softball Battle

Last Friday evening on the Carmel High School field the Civil War was fought all over again when the Merchants north of Ocean avenue downed the Merchants on the South side of Ocean. It was a nip and tuck battle for two innings but the Southsiders ran out of shock troops and the Northerners coasted to an easy 13 to 5 victory.

Ivan Kelsey pitched for the Yankees and barring a shaky first inning had the Morehouse led Rebels eating out of his hand. Captain Gil Severns elected to send his regulars to the bench in the last part of the game so his reserves could sharpen up for the return match this Friday. Ernie Morehouse, not taking any chances, started himself for the South side and lasted for four surprising innings before he was rescued by Kenny Roberts.

Bob Doerr supplied the batting power for the Northsiders by getting four hits and the same number of runs. Lloyd Weer and Gene Ricketts got their share of hits for the losers but the combined teamwork and straight power of the winners was too much to overcome.

This Friday evening the Rebels will have a chance to get even when the game will be replayed at Frank Murphy's ranch in Carmel Valley. —G. M.

Need a New Car? then—better get it!

Think things THROUGH on buying a new car!
If you are Eligible under Newly Liberalized Rules it's Smart to BUY NOW! And here's why!

The Government wants us all to save gasoline.

The Government wants us to save rubber.

The Government also wants to make most efficient use of transportation facilities now available—including cars now built and ready for sale.

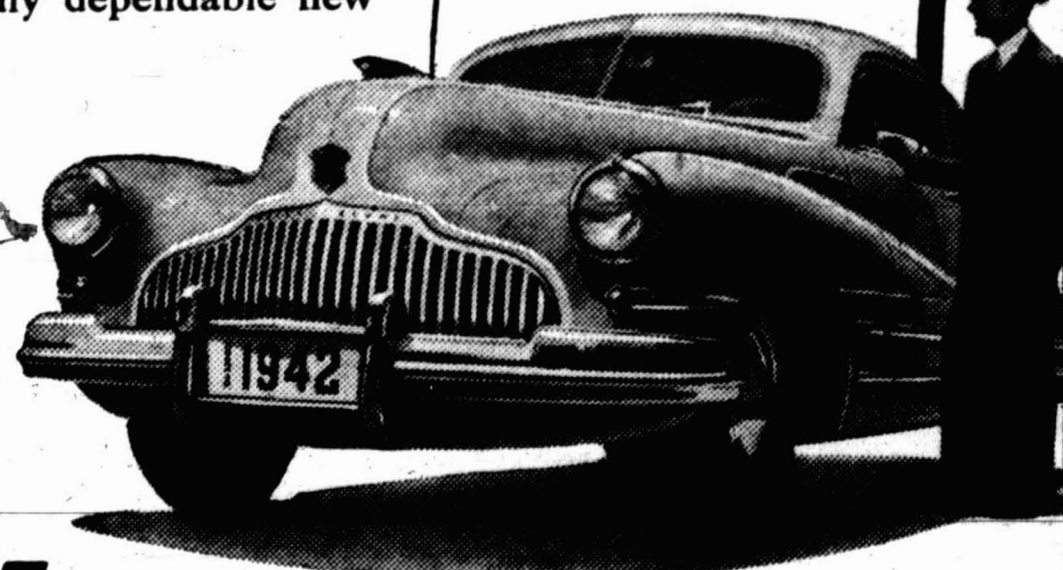

You do not help the country by continuing to "get along" on a car no longer fully efficient, safe or dependably able to serve you in any necessary use.

If you can qualify under latest rationing rules, you are recognized as an essential driver.

As such, you are not only entitled to your share of available gasoline and rubber, but are in reality expected to make the best use of them.

Your Buick dealer can show you that you can more efficiently do this in a brand-new, gas-thrifty, solidly dependable new 1942 Buick than in an older car which may have seen better days.

So before jumping at conclusions, get the whole story on new-car buying. Drop in on your Buick dealer for full details. He is at your service—any time.

If you're eligible to buy—

OF MEN AND BEASTS

By PHIL NESBITT

Fremont Rider, one of Carmel's more active senior air raid wardens, owns a pup, the origin of which appears to be Chinese. "Gypsy" is brighter than most pet pups.

We took her for a walk along Carmel's great white beach to view the sunset. During the walk, Gypsy met an Australian shepherd dog of a mere seventeen years of age. This dog with massive head, had much of the element known as 'dog dignity.' Gypsy's lighter flirtations were as the buzzing of a gnat. All that we know in our mutual human relationship, is duplicated among dogs, though in a diminished degree. In some ways, dogs reach higher levels of being than men. During these days when man's inhumanity to man is flourishing, small dogs are going along, pouring boundless and simple devotion into their limited worlds.

Have you ever seen George Seideneck's house? Kay and George are both completely genuine artists. They live in a virtual paradise up the Carmel valley. The house is one of those rare dwellings wherein the agreeable temperament of the owners is incorporated into the decorative feeling of the interior, the garden and the studio. The entire estate is permeated with such an unusual quality of intellectual good-will and spiritual good taste that visitors surely must return to the outer reality with a positive crash. I've seen a number of lovely houses. I remember Axel Munte's dwelling on a peak of Capri. I recall Robert Keable's house in Tahiti and a castle in England. All were well appointed in their separate fashion. However, perhaps my tastes and conceptions of human-living coincide with those of George and Kay Seideneck. If a compliment can be paid to two persons whose lives overflow with tranquillity and graciousness, I believe it belongs to the above two artists. George's photography is reflective of a peak of craftsmanship found only among such lovers of nature as Audobon, Thoreau and Whitman.

This morning a letter arrived from a reader who feels critically bent toward the Del Monte Theatre play, "Out of the Frying Pan." I haven't seen the play, so I cannot verify reader Gray's reaction. All theatrical groups struggle, during the first presentations, without undoubted odds. They must be given time to get on with the mood and the meaning. It doesn't come too soon, despite dress rehearsals. Maybe if I, too, saw the play I could develop a sounder opinion. I do know Mr. Banyai, the director. I know he is an earnest and excellent craftsman. I know that first efforts against a possible tide of local criticism are not necessarily indicative of other and different plays to come. I am all for the long view of most creative effort. Producing a pleasing play, in the universal sense, is no joke. Equally an opera or a painting is subject to the same law. Be patient, reader Gray. Go to the performance of next week with the broad view of things creative in mind. However, thank you for your sincere reaction. You may be right. I'll go see the next one too.

CABBAGES AND THINGS

By PLANTSMITH

My tomato patch has been the object of much friendly ribbing neighbors and visitors. It isn't the tomatoes that excite them to curiosity so much. It's the tall stakes, planted at each tomato hill. The favorite question is "do you really expect them (the tomatoes) to reach the tops of the stakes?" and my stock answer has been that it's only an experiment—that I'm interested in finding out which grows the faster, the tomatoes or the stakes.

One helpful (?) individual told me a story about a small boy who owned a Bantam hen. The boy was disappointed at the smallness of the eggs so proceeded to urge greater production by

CALL IT A DAY

Call it a day!

For I have loved and laughed,
And mourned my dead, and trembled at the thought
Of God's commandments broken into shards.
Deep joy, and loneliness, have been my lot,
Grim war, white peace; the throbbing of great guns,
Far cannon echoing across the sea.
The long heart-break of waiting, the wild joy
Of respite and return have shaken me.

Call it a day!

Because, through many lands
My feet have wandered, and my heart has known
The exile's hunger for his native hills
When on a foreign soil it dwelt alone.
I have knocked softly on God's mystic gate
And trembled in the darkness, while His hand
Brought me His child, and sent me back to life
Too full of happiness to understand
How I had won the blessing that I pressed
Humbly and carefully above my breast.

Call it a day!

For I have known sweet dawn,
High noon, and now the echo of a shade
Floats on the hilltop. May I watch night come
And find it lovely, and be not afraid.
For what I have done wrong forgive me God!
It was not all in ignorance—but may
Some sacrifice, some service gently done
Hallow my time . . . that it be called "a day."

—KATE RENNIE ARCHER.

HAPPY ISLES

There is a place where Beauty laughs—
forsaking grandeur and her pride—in shock of spray and singing wind where stream to dashing stream is twined, the dogwood thick on either side.

Each tumbles over stone and block
With twice the force of single streams, to mock the impudence of dreams,
to sparkle on the breast of rock, running clear — running bright!
Plunge your forearm deep in foam with fingers open, spread, to comb—through the rush of crystal-white.

Cup it up and let it drip icy ecstasy to lip.
Taste the memory of Falls!
Taste the scope of Canyon walls!
Drink a liquid churned in light, and precious as the sudden sight of silver sunshine — flashing by, fresh with recency of sky.
There is a place where Beauty laughs.

MOUNTAIN DOVE

Gently he whirs through laurel glens
Dim . . . and strange . . . in the leafy shade;
Busily, too, he seeks the hill,
Gleaning seed from the tall, wild grass—
And, in the noonday sun he moves
Coolly, calmly . . . a soft, grey, pray'r.

the hen by placing a goose egg in the nest together with a sign saying "look at this and do your best." I may be forced to use a similar sign for my tomatoes and their tall stakes, and will do so if one more person asks the same question. But the sign will be more for the curious passerby than for the stimulation of the plants.

Some of the plants are already over a third of the way up the stakes sides, the stakes are only about six feet high, anyway. I haven't told anyone yet but I really expect to add extensions to the stakes before the season is over. You see, I have a very special way of growing tomatoes. Knowing Carmel's usual handout of cool, foggy weather I don't aim to let the plants sprawl all over the lot, producing a lot of foliage and shading the blossoms so even a little sunshine can't reach them. Instead, I pinch out all the side shoots, leaving just the central stem. Don't remove any leaves, unless it be the very lowest ones, and tie the stem to a stake or pole. It is necessary to go over the plants about every two weeks to remove new side shoots and to tie up the new growth. One thing to watch out for is that no blossom spurs are removed. However, these form on the main stem between leaves, while the side shoots to be removed appear at the base of the leaves. Do not be afraid to remove these side shoots. The plants will produce fruit much earlier because more of the plant's energy will go to bud and blossom production rather than to excessive growth of leaf and vine.

Tomatoes respond to plenty of plant food, applied every month or so. Otherwise the stakes may win after all. You may say Carmel soil is too poor to grow good tomatoes. I'd like to see any soil worse than that in my garden plot. It isn't even soil. It is just a sort of overflow from a Carmel road.

My garden happens to be at the very end (the downhill end) of a three-block-long road and every gully-washer of a rain picks up that road and deposits it in the general vicinity of my garden. About three days later a Street Department truck and crew come along, load up the road, haul it back up the hill and distribute it in the proper place. Another storm, another road moving scene; so it goes each winter, year after year. But always my garden gets higher and higher and the sand gets deeper and deeper. It's getting so I don't try to raise spinach any more. The flavor of the sand is too suggestive of crank-case oil.

So go ahead and try tomatoes. Compared to my garden "soil" the rest of Carmel is like rich Iowa bottom land.

THE P. I. S. O. IN THE MAKING

The tragic fate of the Philippines is indeed a painful suffering to every living Filipino today. However profound is our grief, still we are more determined than ever to make the greatest sacrifices—and to die if need be for the successful prosecution of this war—and above all for the redemption of our beloved Philippines. Tightly bound by the same suffering and sentiment for the love of liberty, every Filipino here in Carmel, California, who has not yet been inducted into the armed forces, gathered here to exchange views on what one can do to help win the war.

In the midst of our discussion a Filipina lady by the name Mrs. Caridad Gonzales, very cleverly suggested to build a "PHILIPPINE ISLANDS SERVICE ORGANIZATION" (P. I. S. O.), which is similar to the U.S.O. In building up our P. I. S. O., we Filipinos are starting it off with a dance and program at $1.00 per person, which will be held July 16, 1942, 8:00 p.m. at the Girl Scout Hall, Carmel, California. Our Mayor Keith Evans and Dr. Jose Imperial, the Philippine representative commissioner of the Pacific Cosat, will be the guest speakers of the evening. The Public is invited.

tains twenty-five miles south of Big Sur.

Mountains of work waiting to be done called on even the youngest. Taking with her the youngest sister, Lucia, it was nine-year old Ada's job to keep the small flock of milk goats safe from fierce mountain lions and the big grizzly bears.

Fifty-three years have passed since Ada Amanda Dani was married to Wilbur J. Harlan, a young homesteader who had taken land on the coast within a few miles of the Dani holdings.

Until the Big Sur highway was opened, five years ago, there was no road to the Harlan homestead. Forty miles of trail lay between the growing family and the nearest source of supply. That ranch was a world in itself and very little from outside came over the trail on pack animals. The bread on the table came from corn and grain sown on the Harlan fields by the Harlan men. First ground into flour in their own-made mill, it was leavened with homemade yeast and served with grace and generosity to friend or stranger. Many were the guests who, year by year, bowed their heads and gave thanks for food served at the long table in the busy kitchen. The opening of the Big Sur road in 1937 made little change to the old way of life on the homestead.

There were ten children, seven sons and three daughters, all born on the ranch. Three of the boys, Aaron, James and Paul Harlan, served in the first World War. Aaron returned from war with seventeen wounds gained in defending freedom. Fred Harlan, one of the younger boys, is fighting on our war front and Marion, youngest boy of the ten children, is raising grain and cattle for Victory.

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help. This is my rest forever. Here will I dwell; for I have desired the handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains. Here will I build my house upon a rock, and I will lay me down in peace..."

The family burial plot on the mountainside looks over thirty miles of rugged coast line, over fields and corrals and the first orchard, gray with years. Here, at her request, Mrs. Harlan was buried beside her son Victor, in her own land by her own kinsfolk. The Rev. T. J. Barkle of Pacific Grove presided.

Beside her eighty-two-year-old husband, Wilbur Judson Harlan, Mrs. Harlan is survived by six sons: Aaron, James, George, Paul, Fred and Marion Harlan; by three daughters: Lulu Mae Harlan, Ada Harlan Delvy and Hester Harlan Victorienne. Also by two brothers, Alvin and John Dani and one sister, Lucia Dani. All were present at the last rites save Fred Harlan, who is away at war.

Forgotten Village Playhouse Movie

The Playhouse program for the coming week comprises four motion pictures of outstanding merit. Playhouse films are played as single bills only, never as double bills—this for the information of visitors in Carmel.

Currently showing, and closing Sunday night, is the much-discussed "Forgotten Village", made in Mexico last year by John Steinbeck. Termed by the New York Herald-Tribune "one of the finest achievements of the screen" and highly praised by the entire New York critical press, "Forgotten Village" re-enacts the actual life—gay, sad and otherwise—of a lonely little village deep in the mountains of Mexico.

Here are John Steinbeck's own words: "It is the story of a family in one small Mexican village. We wished our audiences to know this family very well and to like it as we did. Then from association with this little personalized group, the larger conclusion about the racial groups could be drawn with something like participation. The crew moved into the village, made friends, talked and listened. The story was simple: too many children die—why is that and what is done about it, both by the village and by the government? Our curandera was a real 'wise woman', who practiced herbology and magic in the village; our doctors real doctors; our teacher was a real teacher in the government school; our mother a real mother who had lost a number of her children."

On Monday night there will be a farewell showing of "Drums", with Sabu at his tiptop best.

Tuesday and Wednesday bring "The Gay Falcon", with George Sanders, Wendy Barrie and Allen Jenkins in a suave and dashing new sort of who-dun-it thriller guaranteed to take away all thoughts of war.

Thursday and Friday, July 16th and 17th, "All That Money Can Buy" will present the exciting old New England legend of "The Devil and Daniel Webster", with Walter Huston, Edward Arnold, Simone Simon, Anne Shirley and James Craig. Dan Tothoroh, who frequently enjoys his getting-away-from-it-all home in Carmel, wrote the screen story from a Satevpost prize tale by Stephen Vincent Benet. The film was selected by The Playhouse management as its own idea of one of the best half dozen pictures in the last twelve months.

Thomas to Fill In For Welty in Last "Tatters" Week End

Only four more chances remain in which to see "Tatters," the Gold Coast Troupers' overwhelming success at California's First Theatre in Monterey. The audience on July 4 was "packed into the rafters," and shouts of laughter and merriment echoed up and down Pacific Street from the riotous olio and melodrama of the First Theatre. Tomorrow night and Sunday are this week's play dates.

Warren Thomas, the first double bass of the Bach Festival, will make his debut on the First Theatre boards this week end, when he goes on as "Mr. Ferris," the half-breed Indian who holds Tatter's heart. Warren takes the place of Dan Welty, who is unable to play this week end, due to night work.

Another change in cast for the week end is that the versatile Eddie George will play Abe Witherspoon, accomplice to the arch-villain Phil Dolan.

CAN AND PLAN FOODS AND MEALS

EAT NUTRITIONAL FOOD

The good old Yankee custom of putting up food for the winter is being practised throughout the land this summer. No doubt you too, will be filling pantry and cooler shelves while orchard and field crops are plentiful.

For fruits and berries the shortage of sugar is not too serious a check. Some berries can be put up in natural juices without sugar. Or you can stretch your sugar allotment by the use of honey for sweetening. Jams and jellies or syrup for fruit can be made with all honey or half honey and sugar.

For vegetables do not trust old methods for cold or hot pack. Seek the latest and safest methods from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, your State Extension Service or this company's home economists. It is wasteful and dangerous to can vegetables by improper methods. Food is a munition of war. Buy it right. Cook it right. Can it right.

Week-end guests of, Patricia Cunningham were two former Carmel residents, Frank and Connie Adams, whose home is now San Francisco.

Bishop Block Here for Summer

Bishop and Mrs. Karl Block of San Francisco have taken a home on San Antonio for the summer.

Johnny Patrick Now Driving Ambulance

The Al Sparks just received word from Johnny Patrick, playwright and Carmel play producer, that he is now an Army ambulance driver and is on his way to distant lands.

Johnny will be remembered for the plays he wrote and produced at the Filmarte here and for plays later in New York, radio plays and movies which he wrote for Twentieth-Century Fox. He did the radio adaptations for Helen Hayes' "Arrowsmith" and "Kitty Foyle" and, while he was in Carmel, concocted "Hell Freezes Over" which was produced in New York.

Reception Opens Institute Exhibit

The third annual exhibit of the Carmel Art Institute's summer session students will be opened tomorrow with a reception at the Sketch Box.

Patricia Cunningham will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. C. H. Stearns, Mrs. Robert Doolittle, Miss Elaine Cunningham, Miss Betty Reynolds.

Miss Margaret Valiant will preside at the tea table.

Beenfeldts in San Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Beenfeldt and Judith Irene are in San Francisco for a week.

Castagnas Home

Mrs. Ralph Castagna, David and Susan, have returned from three weeks on the Sonoma ranch of Mrs. Castagna's mother, Mrs. Joseph Bentley.

Children's Show Opens Wednesday
The work of the children's classes at the Carmel Art Institute will be exhibited at the Art Gallery next week.

There will be a reception Wednesday afternoon opening the show.

Eleanor Johnston Has Guest

As her houseguest over the Fourth, Eleanor Johnston entertained Kay Nagle of Stanford.

Ruthlings in New Mexico

Paul and Maria Ruthling and family have left for a vacation in New Mexico.

Joe Jr., and Basil—

Joe E. Brown, Jr., of the Del Monte Theatre company spent Wednesday afternoon on the beach, faithfully followed by that truant, hypo-thyroid greyhound, Basil.

In spite of his marked resemblance to Basil Rathbone, Basil was so named by Doris Mills simply because "he looks so aristocratic."

Mrs. A. E. Price in S. F.

In San Francisco for two weeks is Mrs. A. E. Price.

Miss Oroseo in S. F.

Jessie Oroseo has returned from San Francisco where she spent a short holiday recently.

Otto Bardarson Vacationing

Otto W. Bardarson has gone to Seattle, his former home, for a month.

New Contribution to USO

For hours at a time Artist Adrian Beach sits at the Monterey USO, sketching soldiers.

He gives the drawings to the boys as presents.

Teachers Roll Up Sleeves

Lloyd Miller of the High School faculty is hard at work weeding and caring for the precious guayule plants around Salinas, while his colleague, Clayton Schuttish, is spending his vacation building an auto shop at the school and putting shelves in the gym.

Mrs. Overhulse, Dawn Leave Again

After an unsuccessful hunt for a place to live in San Francisco, Mrs. F. E. Overhulse and Dawn have joined Mr. Overhulse for an indefinite stay in Marysville.

Zellerbachs Return to S. F.

After a week at their Carmel beach home, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zellerbach returned to San Francisco Sunday.

Florence Cochran Visits

Mrs. Robert Cochran (Florence Lockwood) has come from New York to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Florence Lockwood.

Florence Brown in San Francisco

Right after her daughter, Willette's, wedding last week, Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown went up to San Francisco with her daughter, Mrs. John Geisen (Florence), for a two weeks' visit.

Major Robison Spends Fourth Here

To be seen sitting out in front of his former law office at Ocean and Mission Sunday was Shelburn Robison, resplendent in his uniform and overseas cap.

Major Robison observed the Fourth on the Peninsula with his family.

The Crileys Celebrate

Mrs. T. M. Criley had her local family members with her for the Fourth and also Pfc. Dick Criley from Fort Ord and Mrs. Dick Criley from San Francisco.

Mrs. Criley's son, Ted, is designing hundreds of housing units near Los Angeles.

Lieutenant Marshall Carter Reports

Dr. Marshall Carter went on active duty yesterday in San Francisco as a Navy doctor with the rank of Lieutenant, senior grade.

Mrs. Carter, Lloyd and Ted, have been visiting the Marshall Carter Sr.s in Los Angeles. Their future plans are indefinite.

Boulder Creek Expedition

Connie Flavin is taking Eleanor Johnston, Beverly Leidig and Cornelia Shuman to Boulder Creek for a week. They will stay in Eleanor's Aunt, Mrs. Clifton Slonaker's, cabin.

Mrs. Elizalde Has Party

Among those who entertained at the Racquet Club barbecue Sunday was Marie Elizalde whose guests included, Messrs. and Mesdames Howard Veit, Tom Bunn, Harrison Godwin, Mesdames Henry Belden, Ellen Hills, John Cunningham, Miss Margaret Valiant and Mr. Guy Disbrow.

Politics Instead of Firecrackers

Edith Greenan was hostess to a group of her friends, and Maeve and Jimmy were hosts to several of theirs, at the Greenans' Valley home on the Fourth.

According to the hostess, instead of having firecrackers, they discussed war and politics.

Miss Margaret Valiant, houseguest of the John Cunninghams, delighted the party with her guitar and American folk songs.

This week Mrs. Greenan, Maeve and Rene McDonald left for a week in Taft and Bakersfield.

Tea at Melvyn Douglas Home

Mrs. Edward Hesselberg, mother of Melvyn Douglas, was hostess at an informal tea Tuesday at the Douglas home.

Mrs. Hesselberg is visiting Mrs. Douglas (Helen Gahagan) who is here with her three children.

John Short Home for Fourth

With two friends from San Francisco, Patsy March and Margaret Partin, John Short came down for the week-end. He is building ships in Sausalito these days.

Arthur Gergens Here

Two popular former Carmel residents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gergen, are the houseguests of Charles Berkey for a week.

The Gergens are now living in New Mexico.

Mrs. Newcome at Tahoe

Mrs. Martha E. Newcome spent the Fourth at Tahoe Tavern.

Miss Kent Dies in Rochester

Many Carmel friends will be grieved to hear of the death of Miss Ada Howe Kent of the Highlands in Rochester, N. Y., on June 28.

A resident of Carmel Highlands for twenty years, Miss Kent was a generous supporter of many civic and philanthropic activities.

Bill Payne First Class Mechanic At Chico Air Field

Mrs. L. E. Payne of Carmel Valley reports that her son, Bill, who enlisted in the Air Corps, is now a first class mechanic at the Chico flying field.

He is living in Chico with his wife, the former Isabel Palmer of San Mateo, to whom he was married in Carson City last November.

Bill's many friends in Carmel will be interested to hear that he has also been stationed at Chanute Field in Illinois and at Moffett Field.

Lloyds at Mill Valley Home—

The whole Frank Lloyd family is now assembled and settled in a Mill Valley home.

First, Defense Worker Frank, went up; then Marjory, Skipper, and Baby Lucinda; and finally Jennefer, who had lingered on in Carmel as guest of the Laidlaw Williams. Jennefer spent several days at the Girl Scouts' day camp before leaving.

Army Daughters Invite All—

The Army Daughters will give a bridge tea benefiting their hospital fund Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. in the Presidio Officers Club, and the general public is invited.

Miss Winifred Stilwell and Mrs. Ellen Peca will be hostesses and reservations should be made with Miss Stilwell at Carmel 1453. Mrs. Scott Murphy is giving the door prize.

Babette de Moe Home

With her newly acquired degree from Principia Junior College, Babette de Moe, Carmel's leading woman aviator, has arrived home for a summer with her mother, Mrs. E. C. Poklen.

Her brother, Earl de Moe, Jr., has just been commissioned an ensign in the Naval Air Corps and is in Corpus Christi.

Carol Ann Smith in Recital—

Emma Evans will present her pupil, Carol Ann Smith, daughter of the Floyd Smiths, in a piano recital at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Smith home, Fourth and San Carlos.

Carol Ann, who has been studying with Mrs. Evans for the past two and a half years, will play the following program: Prelude No. 12 A Minor ... Bach Sonatina Opus 55 No. 3 ... Kuhlau Allegro—Allegretto Grazioso

Minuet in G ... Beethoven Elfentanz (Elfin-dance) ... Grieg Volksweise (Folk-song) ... Grieg The Clock from Over There, Ganz Intermission

La Gracieuse ... Burgmuller Progress ... Burgmuller Arranged for two pianos by N. G. Ridderhof.

Concerto in C Major ... Kasschau Allegro—Canzonetta—Allegretto Emma Evans at second piano.

Surprise Visit

Dr. George Outland dropped in to the Village Tuesday.

He stayed until Wednesday with Professor and Mrs. H. W. Stuart at their Dolores street home.

The Reply Tactful—

They had a map of the United States at the USO the other evening and each soldier was finding his home town and sticking in a pin.

"And where were you born?" the hostess asked one soldier.

"It's not on the map," said the soldier. "Germany."

"My," was the hostess' reply, "you're a long way from home, aren't you?"

Katie Martin's Sister Here—

Mrs. Paul H. Marston of Pasadena arrived in Carmel Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Royden Martin, and to cool off.

She will remain in the Village until tomorrow.

Suzanne McGraw Engaged—

Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. McGraw, announced the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne Wetmore McGraw, to Darrell Poole Ingraham at a small dinner party Saturday evening.

Miss McGraw, who is a graduate of Sunset and Monterey high school, has just completed her sophomore year at Pomona.

Son of Burrell G. Ingraham of Cleveland, Mr. Ingraham was graduated from Western Reserve University and is now with the U. S. Cavalry.

BIG BABY WEEK

A bumper crop of Carmel babies—double the usual number for a week—have arrived at the Peninsula Community Hospital.

General Joseph W. Stilwell achieved a new grandchild when Louise Allison was born to Major and Mrs. J. W. Stilwell on Tuesday.

When Officer and Mrs. Frank Hay became the parents of Judith Elizabeth on July 6, the entire Carmel Police Department became godfather to her.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hofstetter are the parents of a Fourth of July baby, a boy.

And on July 3, a girl, Sandra Anne, arrived for Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Taylor.

Eyres Return, Entertain Cast

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Eyre, who are now living in Denver, have opened their Pebble Beach home for two weeks, and Monday were supper hosts there to the Del Monte theater cast, including Producer George Benyai, and Carmel Myers, leading lady of the theater's next offering, "Mr. and Mrs. North", and her husband, Mr. Ralph Blum.

Quinns Back Again—

Mrs. Lawrence A. Quinn and June, who spent last summer in Carmel, have returned from the east coast to remain for the duration. Colonel Quinn is now living in Australia.

Williams Visit Rohrs—

Mr. and Mrs. David P. Williams and son, Marston, of Oakland have been visiting here at the home of Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Rohr, and her brother, Carl S. Rohr and family. Mr. Williams is government ship-building superintendent for the Pacific northwest district.

Carmel Myers Honorary Colonel—

Carmel Myers, who in private life is Mrs. Ralph Blum, is stopping at the Del Monte Lodge with Mr. Blum.

Miss Myers will play the lead in the Del Monte Theatre's second production, "Mr. and Mrs. North."

Very interested in war work, Mrs. Blum proudly wears the insignia of Honorary Colonel of the Army Transport Service, which was presented to her July 1 when her "Open House" in Los Angeles was officially given over to the men who man the guns on the transports and who come into port so badly in need of a place to relax.

Mrs. Blum will go to San Francisco after her stay on the Peninsula to organize a similar "Open House" somewhere on the water front in San Francisco. She is justly proud of her title "Honorary Colonel" of the Army Transport Service.

Ester Van Niel to Play

Mrs. Fritz Wurzmahn (Marjorie Legge) will present her pupil, Ester Van Niel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Van Niel, in a recital Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Wurzmahn home.

Miss Van Niel will play a Prelude in C from the Well-Tempered Clavichord of Bach; Courant of Handel; Minuetto of Haydn; Old English Dance by Seymour Smith; a composition "Two Moods" of Beethoven; a Waltz of Schubert; Schuman's "The Wild Rider" and a Scherzo of Haydn.

Increasing Capacity of Statewide Bank to Spur More War Production

Bank of America Mid-year Statement Shows Progress

The statement of condition of Bank of America as of June 30, 1942, shows deposits at the all-time high mark of $1,958,430,000, an increase of $272,942,000 over a year ago and an increase of $50,047,000 since December 31, 1941. Total resources were $2,143,202,000, a gain of $265,464,000 over a year ago.

LARGE LOAN VOLUME

Loans and discounts outstanding aggregated $889,353,000 which is $44,887,000 higher than a year ago. Since December 31, 1941, loans and discounts decreased $25,216,000, while bond investments increased $81,437,000.

Earnings after operating expenses and accruals for taxes were $12,618,000. From this total $2,133,000 was reserved for depreciation of bank premises and amortization of bond premiums and $2,053,000 was set up in reserves and applied to the absorption of losses or the revaluation of assets. After payment of $5,267,000 in dividends at the annual rate of $2.40 per share on the common stock and $2.00 per share on the preferred stock, and after profit-sharing bonus to employees, capital funds were increased from earnings for the six months' period by $3,119,000. This, with the dividend, is equal to approximately $4.00 per share per annum on the common stock.

WAR RESERVES

Following the policy previously established, one-half of the net increase in undivided profits was transferred to the war contingencies reserve.

Capital funds, including reserves, now total $158,767,000, which is an increase of $2,024,000 for the year, after the utilization of $3,882,450 to retire 77,649 shares of preferred stock during the period, and after applying $842,000 of an unallocated reserve, previously set up for the purpose, to reduce the book value of certain banking premises, in addition to normal depreciation.

WAR PRODUCTION

President L. M. Giannini stated that the curtailed demand for ordinary civilian credit had made more funds available to finance war production. "We are continuing to carry forward our policy of unstinted support to America's victory program," he said.

Dates Set, Casts Announced For Shakespeare Festival, a Few Spots Open in Cast and Stage Department

In preparation for the 1942 Shakespeare Festival, rehearsals are in full swing for the productions of Julius Caesar and Twelfth Night, to be presented in the Forest Theater in August. Director Heron has streamlined both plays and prepared swift and vital productions, neither of which will run over an hour and a half. Owing to war conditions and the necessity for bright lights, the performances will be staged at twilight.

Julius Caesar will be given on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, August 7-8-9. Brutus will be played by Noel Sullivan, who has made himself a firm place in Peninsula drama by his deeply satisfying portrayals of Shakespearean roles. Cassius will be in the sure and subtle control of Warren Keith Thomas, who played so effectively in last year's Festival. Herbert Heron will again play Antony.

The title role of Julius Caesar will be W. B. Williams, who has never failed to score on the Carmel stage. Casca will be one more hit part for Milton Stitt. Several shorter roles are still open, and the management will be glad to hear from any man who would like the pleasure of appearing in the production.

Twelfth Night will be given on the week-end of August 21-22-23. The delightful part of Feste the Fool this year will be done by Warren Keith Thomas, while Heron will take over the part of Malvolio. Milton Stitt will be Sir Andrew Aguecheek. The role of Sir Toby Belch, is not yet filled.

In this streamlined version, the love-plot of the Duke and Viola is omitted. Olivia will be played by Maryan Finlay, a newcomer to Carmel, while the rich comedy role of Maria will be in the hands of Ruth McElroy, the gifted daughter of George Marion, who has been stealing shows in Carmel for as many years as she has appeared.

Heron has designed severely simple but always beautiful sets for the Festival. The construction will be done by Fred Locke, a mechanic of long experience. H. F. Dickinson, who built the splendid columns for the previous Forest Theater production of Julius Caesar, will assist in this year's construction. Painting, decoration of the stage and general details will be in charge of Ann Millis, who has made a study of stage work.

Anyone, whether resident or visitor, who may be interested in any phase of the Festival, either acting or in work on sets, costumes, etc., should get in touch with Herbert Heron in the Seven Arts Building. Telephone 688. If no answer, then phone 711-W.

Fishing Idyl of Cedric Rowntree; Suspense--Defense

Cedric Rowntree went fishing recently one morning before breakfast.

His wife, Harriet, waited breakfast for him and he didn't come and he didn't come. What had happened to him?

He was fishing in the surf off the rocks and Mrs. Rowntree had visions of what might have happened.

She worried for over an hour and then she telephoned the police. Earl Wermuth soon located Rowntree's car near a rocky point in Pebble Beach, but not Rowntree. Officer Wermuth left a note:

"You're going to get H-- when you get home."

But Rowntree didn't. He did not even get breakfast. By the time he arrived, Harriet Rowntree had departed for the Civilian Defense office.

Red Cross News

By S. L. CORY

Surgical dressings have been made for the possible needs of Carmel and vicinity in event of disaster by a group of Junior Red Cross workers under the direction of the Carmel Valley Surgical Dressings Unit. These dressings were sterilized and put into safe storage in an emergency closet. The sterilization was done by our own group of Red Cross Nurses Aides at the Community Hospital. In spite of this extra quota of dressings, the Surgical Dressings Unit has made and shipped its entire allotment each month without any reduction, in fact the monthly quota is considerably increased during the past months.

Registration is now open for student Nurses Aides. The class will start the last week of July. The Red Cross would like very much to have girls who are interested in nursing. We feel that it is not only a splendid experience for them, but it is helping the Red Cross in your Community immeasurably.

Gregorio Aquino, on behalf of the Carmel Filipino Community, presented the Red Cross with $40 this week, the profits of the recent showing of the film, "Remember Manila".

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup." These words from I Corinthians comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 12, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Sacrament."

Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it;" (Matt. 26: 26, 27).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The disciples had eaten, yet Jesus prayed and gave them bread. This would have been foolish in a literal sense; but in its spiritual significance, it was natural and beautiful. Jesus prayed; he withdrew from the material sense to refresh his heart with brighter, with spiritual views," (p. 32).

ALL SAINTS CHURCH

In the second of a series of Sunday afternoon Organ Recitals, held at 4:00 p.m., each Sunday at All Saints Church, Alice Lee Keith will present the following program on July 12:

Andante from Sonata for organ, James Rogers; Jubilate Deo, Alfred Vilver; Negro Spirituals: "Deep River", "The Angels Done Changed my Name"; Serenade, Gounod. There is no admission charge and the general public is invited to attend.

Next Sunday, 8:00 a.m., Service of the Holy Communion. At 11:00 a.m. Service of Morning Prayer with sermon message by the Rev. A. E. Clay. Offertory solo: The 91st Psalm — McDermott. Soloist: Arch Leonard. Organ selections will include a Prelude by Gounod from The Redemption—a Chorale "I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord" by Jan Sweelinck and a Postlude by Beethoven. Organ Recital Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. Alice Lee Keith at the Console.

Jeffers Exhibit At Santa Barbara

During the entire month of July, there is to be shown at the Museum of Art in Santa Barbara an exhibit in honor of Robinson Jeffers.

It comprises part of the material shown in the Library of Congress last year; all of his books, both special and trade editions, single poems, books about him and his work, photographs late and early, the bronze bust of him made by Jo Davidson here in Carmel in 1937, and the complete manuscript of "Solstice."

Del Monte Opener Laughing Success

By KATIE MARTIN

The most pleasing sound in the world is the full-bodied chuckle which develops into our well-known "belly-laugh." There were countless numbers of such at the George Banyai production of Francis Swann's "OUT OF THE FRYING PAN" under the management of Kit Whitman at Del Monte Theatre. Believe me, it's a wonderful thing to hear so much laughter and especially when it's well-deserved.

Robert Harris' direction kept zany action on the stage from becoming a welter of confusion . . . but certain members of his cast gave the old vaudeville touch by playing face front and dead-center to the audience. I rather blame that on possible aspirations of the individual rather than on Mr. Harris.

Mitzi Mayfair's ballet-hoo gestures showed her to be a dancer first and an actress second but her characterization was good and we liked her. Rita Quigley, (Muriel) in the last two scenes occasioned many a burst of laughter with her post-Mickey Finn acting . . . She and Patti McCarty (Kate), Herbert Vigran (George), and Robert Harris (herb-minded Mr. Kenny) were all excellent . . . the others were good too, don't get me wrong; it's just that the few I've mentioned were outstanding. However, even the director himself let slip an unrehearsed smile now and then . . . as nearly everyone on stage did when Rita Quigley came out of the bathroom door with the assortment of clothing and the sick look.

First night nervousness accounted for many slips, breaks and blowing in lines because the show is well-rehearsed and staged far better and with far more enthusiasm than the majority of comedies lately. Setting, lights and staging kept the performance

Two Carmel Boys Join Firefighters

Answering the call of the Forestry service for more firefighters to increase the protection of state forests this summer, Dale Vandervort and Howard Lockwood, have joined up and are now in residence at the Carmel Hill Fire station, according to P. J. Nesgis, foreman and firewarden.

There is room for more high school boys who want a summer job with room, board and pay, Nesgis said.

smooth, and the set must be substantial because it certainly takes a beating with all the jitterbug acting, stabbings and lively action. Go and see "OUT OF THE FRYING PAN." You'll like it too.

Big, Scrumptious Bill of Fare at Carmel Theatre

The Carmel Theatre has this week one of its biggest weeks of entertainment starting off with "Valley of the Sun" on Friday and Saturday. This story is one of a mighty cavalcade of courage set to the savage tempo of Americas restless West. Taking the leading roles in this story by Clarence Budington Kelland are lovely Lucille Ball and the ever ready man with a gun, James Craig. The added attraction is "Gentleman at Heart" with Milton Berle, Cesar Romero and Carole Landis. This frolicsome trio keeps the story up to a fast pace. Imagine, if you can, Romero as a racetrack "Bookie" finding culture in an art gallery or Carole Landis giving Romero lessons in the art of love. With screwball Berle putting in his two cents worth when ever he gets a chance.

The three day offering, Sunday through Tuesday, is "Captain of the Clouds" with James Cagney, Dennis Morgan and Brenda Marshall. This heroic story of the R. C. A. F. is filmed in technicolor. As in most all good shows, there is a romance, only this time instead of the usual two involved there are three, which prove to be not a crowd, but a party.

Wednesday and Thursday, with a matinee on Wednesday afternoon, the electric reproduction of a thrilling adventure is portrayed in "Joan of Paris" with Michele Morgan and Paul Henreid. "Moonlight Masquerade" is the companion film with Dennis O'Keefe and Jane Frazee.

The Friday and Saturday pictures will make you insist upon coming. "Jungle Book" with Sabu. It took two years to bring to the screen all the thrills—the romance—the eyestaffing wonder of Kipling's greatest story. Crowded with countless peaks of screen excitement, it just had to be filmed in technicolor. Also with this great film is "What's Cooking?" with Gloria Jean, Billie Burke and Charles Butterworth. We must not leave out the name of Woodie Herman, who with his famous band features the new hit "Wood-chopper's Ball".

Dreadful Noise! Jap? Coyote? Fox? Mays Will Never Know

Paul Mays has just returned from southern California where he reports seeing three Japanese battleships off a certain California bay. None was more than six feet long.

They are part of a Warener Brothers set for a new whoop-de-doo picture.

That was Hollywood. Monday night at home on the Mesa Mr. Mays found real drama in his own backyard.

About three o'clock in the morning he heard a dreadful, a "tragic noise", and thought "possibly it was a Jap."

Something was trying to get into the house.

Mays rushed out to see in a slipperless hurry and found that his adopted golden pheasant was being attacked by either two foxes or two coyotes. He saved the pheasant and scared the marauders away so effectively that he didn't have an opportunity to find out exactly what kind they were. And now he's rather sorry because he's getting curiouser and curiouser.

ENOUGH DOCTORS?

"Just checking," said the Presidio of Monterey Monday, as it called The Pine Cone-Cymbal to inquire about the number of Carmel doctors who have not gone into the service.

By way of the voice over the wire, the Army stated that it was figuring out whether the Village has the right percentage of doctors for the population.

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Monterey

GEORGIA K. TEABY, Plaintiff, vs.
GREGORY W. TEABY, Defendant.

No. 17612

CITATION

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA SEND GREETINGS TO GEORGIA K. TEABY:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that Gregory W. Teaby, the Defendant in the above entitled cause, has filed herein a Notice of Motion to Amend and Modify the Interlocutory Decree of Divorce and the Final Decree of Divorce heretofore granted in the above entitled action and praying that he be awarded the care, custody and education of Joan Elizabeth Teaby and Nancy Jean Teaby, the minor children of the issue of the marriage between Plaintiff and Defendant.

YOU ARE HEREBY FURTHER NOTIFIED that a hearing will be had pursuant to said Notice of Motion on Monday, the 5th day of October, 1942, at the hour of 10:30 A. M. of said day at the Courtroom of the above entitled Court, at the Courthouse in the City of Salinas, County of Monterey, State of California, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard.

YOU ARE HEREBY CITED AND DIRECTED TO appear before said Court at the time and place aforesaid, then and there to show cause, if any, why the custody, care and control of said minors, Joan Elizabeth Teaby and Nancy Jean Teaby, should not be awarded to the Defendant, Gregory W. Teaby, herein.

WITNESS, the honorable H. G. Jorgensen, Judge of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Monterey, with the seal of the Court affixed, this 29th day of June, 1942.

ATTEST: C. F. JOY, Clerk.

Masks at Library By High Students Exciting Interest

A group of Miss Lucille Burtis' high school students are exhibiting masks in the juvenile wing at the library.

Lois Petty, Ann Bates, Louis Levinson, Ty Hook, Martha Rico, Edith Cox, Annette and Jeannette McIndoo, and Katie Miranda are the artists who have modeled the masks in clay, made papier mache molds, and then painted them and ornamented them with earrings and head-dresses.

A similar exhibit by Miss Burtis' students last summer created such interest among Carmel residents and tourists that Miss Barbara Woods of the library asked for another display this year.

Badminton Teams For Adults Are Program Feature

Carmel recreation program gains in popularity each week as the summer advances, Coach George Mosolf reports. From 45 children a day, the attendance average on Sunset playground has increased to the present average of 100. Swimming was enjoyed at La Playa pool by 120 children last week.

Badminton and archery at the high school is creating interest among the adults, but there is still room for more in the groups which meet Thursday from two to four in the afternoon on the high school field for archery, and seven to nine in the evening at the high school for badminton.

This week's program:

Recreation Schedule

The Editor Does Some Explaining

You can't bring the wife and kids to the barbecue at Frank Murphy's ranch this evening as stated in last week's Pine Cone-Cymbal. Not that Mr. Murphy in the bigness of his heart wouldn't welcome the entire family, but there is a thirty-foot bank overhanging the swimming pool that looks as if it were made for kids to fall over.

The party was planned to be stag and a continuation of the soft-ball game of this week, but some of the organizers failed to get in touch with others of the organizers—result, the official announcement reaching the Pine Cone-Cymbal last week stated that it was a family affair.

But here's one that is our fault. Pon On is not the manager of the Asia Inn, nor is he as "close" a cousin to Pon Chung as our story of last issue implied.

Inspectors Here Checking Building

The War Production Board inspectors are on the Peninsula this week checking up on violations of the conservation orders as they apply to building construction.

One of them was in the office of City Building Inspector Floyd Adams Tuesday clarifying details of the regulations and enlisting co-operation.

He pointed out that there is no restriction on repair work, nor restoration of fire loss.

Asked which were the most common violations in this district, he cited country cabins and observed that it was wonderful what pretentious summer homes could be built in the country for under $500.

Stretcher Bearers Needed Now by CD

Stretcher bearers are vitally needed in connection with civilian defense work here, Mrs. Cedric Rowntree reported at a meeting of the Executive Council of the CD Thursday afternoon.

"They would come forward eagerly when that actual emergency arises, but is too late. Trained men are needed for that work, and we need them now to train them.

Anyone strong enough to handle a stretcher, athletic young women or high school boys would be welcome, Mrs. Rowntree said, though she thinks the best prospects would be able bodied men who have not yet signed up for other civilian defense work.

Thomas Williams Point Resident Taken by Death

Thomas Jefferson Williams, 69, died at his home on the Point Wednesday of a heart ailment.

He had been in the automobile business in San Francisco, Fresno, and Los Angeles, where he was born, before coming to Carmel eight years ago.

His wife, Mrs. Margaret Williams of Carmel, a daughter, Mrs. Gladys B. Jesson of Fresno, and a grandson, Richard E. Abbott, of the U. S. Marines, survive.

Final services will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at the Stephens and Bean chapel, Fresno.

It Goes Around and Around, This Irish Weekly Telegraph

H. J. Praeger gets the Belfast Weekly Telegraph printed in Belfast Ireland. It arrives in Carmel about three weeks after publication and is perused enthusiastically from cover to cover by Praeger, while Mrs. Robinson Jeffers, next on the list, waits, controlling her impatience as best she can.

She, in turn, passes it on to Joseph McEldowney, and at that point the Belfast Telegraph has completed its Carmel round, but not its travels.

McEldowney after reading the Telegraph mails it to friends in Canada who send it back to friends in the United States—in Boston, Praeger believes, though at this point the peregrinations of the Belfast Telegraph are becoming a little hard to follow.

Praeger won't swear the Boston people send it back to friends in Ireland, but he won't swear that they don't.

YOUR STANDARD SERVICE MAN

Here's a front row seat to the best show in town!

No kidding, if you've never watched a Standard Service Man give your car a grease job, you've missed one of the swellest shows there is. Follow one of us as we work our way around your car—or we'll find you a clean place to sit, if you like—and we'll guarantee to make your eyes pop. Several different types of grease guns take part in our act, and many different kinds of oils and greases.

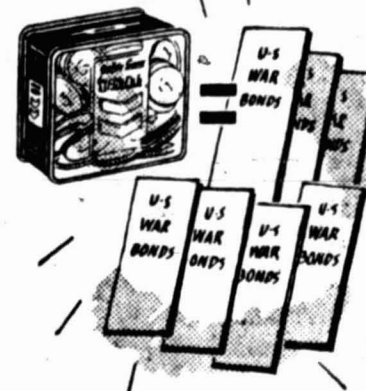

We'll show you, too, the difference between a "cut rate" grease job and a regular "Standard Lubrication". You'll see how an iron clad system keeps us from missing any points—and how "double checking" insures the safety of your car. Make reservations early!

Guard your Tax Stamp!

Uncle Sam says you have to put your Federal Automobile Tax Stamp where it can be seen—preferably on the lower right-hand corner of your windshield. It has to last a whole year, so be sure to guard it from water damage and theft! Get a free transparent sticker from your Standard Service Man—it's neat, non-advertisey, and complies with all government regulations. Play safe with that $5.00—get your free sticker tomorrow.

Glass Bank holds Seven U. S. Bonds!

Here's an easy way to save for your War Savings Bond purchases! Glass Banks, on sale for 25c wherever Standard Products are sold, hold $11.00 in pennies, $34.00 in nickels—and enough dimes to buy Seven $25 Bonds.
